Question

Do you think a person can be spirit possessed by "Jesus" in the same way as a demon or other form-energies?

Answer

I get this question asked of me very often, almost by every new person who discovers the Divine Truth. The underlying reason this question generally is:

"I do not believe that Alan John Miller (AJ) can be Jesus. But I do know that many people on earth are saying they are Jesus, and so, AJ is just another one of these persons who either are possessed by 'Jesus' or a spirit who thinks he is 'Jesus', overcloaked spiritually by 'Jesus' or a spirit who believes he is 'Jesus', or is falsely representing himself.

Now, AJ does not appear to me to be a false person, and he really seems to believe he is Jesus. So, I believe that AJ has not considered that he is just either being overcloaked or possessed by 'Jesus' or a spirit who believes he is 'Jesus', the 'Jesus' consciousness if you will."

Firstly, to be possessed, influenced, or over-cloaked by a spirit, the person on the earth, and the spirit involved, must both be in a condition of allowing and engaging this process. Any spirit who is willing to over-cloak, possess or influence a person on earth, without informing the person on earth as to their own intentions to over cloak them, is automatically out of harmony with the Law of Free Will, and so, therefore, out of harmony with Love.

So, any spirit who is involved in over-cloaking, possession, or influencing a person on earth, without the person on earth being informed and conscious of that influence, is out of harmony with Love, and so therefore in a poor spiritual condition. Spirits from the 1st to the 6th spheres (dimensions) will attempt this, but no spirit on the Divine Love path under the 7th sphere, nor any spirit in the Celestial spheres (who are at-one with God), will ever attempt to do this.

I feel it is safe to assume that Jesus, who was the teacher of the Divine Love path on earth in the 1st century, is still on the Divine Love path, and still fully practices all of the principles of Love in his own life. For this reason Jesus of Nazareth of the Bible, would never be involved in over-cloaking or possessing a person on earth, and even would not be involved in influencing a person on earth without the person on earth desiring that influence.

Frequently Asked Questions

So, if a person on earth does become over-cloaked or possessed by "Jesus", then, the "Jesus" involved is not the Jesus of the Bible, Jesus of Nazareth, but rather, a spirit imposter, claiming to be "Jesus" for his own emotional or power-based purposes. There are many persons on earth who will accept an imposter spirit calling themselves "Jesus" or "Mary" or another of the persons from the 1st century life, without any verification of the persons true identity.

So, a person cannot be over-cloaked by the Jesus of the Bible, or possessed by that same Jesus, because, for this to happen, Jesus would have to be in a poor condition of love, a condition that he certainly was not in while he lived on the earth in the 1st century.

However, persons can be, and frequently are, possessed or over-cloaked by imposter persons in the spirit world claiming to be Jesus of the Bible, and these spirits often do a lot of damage to the cause of Truth through their connection with people on earth who are not able to tell the difference between the conditions of love of different spirit persons. These spirits are mostly in the hells or the 1st sphere of the spirit world, and a person on earth who is in a greater condition of love very easily feels the imposter spirit's soul condition, and so knows that the spirit is not the "Jesus" he claims to be.

There are many thousands of these imposter spirits in the spirit world, in the 1st sphere, and these spirits very frequently cause a lot of damage to the people they possess, and have even been responsible for the murder, rape, torture, and suicide of many persons on earth who are easily influenced by them.

Am I over-cloaked by a spirit claiming to be "Jesus"?

So, the real question is then, am I over-cloaked or possessed by a spirit claiming to be "Jesus"?

If I am, then firstly, the spirit cannot be the real Jesus of the Bible, and, secondly, the spirit and myself would also be in a poor condition of love. The spirit would be in a poor condition because it is enabling me to believe that I am Jesus, and I would need to be in a poor condition as well, because I am accepting and portraying myself as someone whom I am not.

Of course, I can answer these questions, but, in the end, you will have to make your own assessment as to whether I am over-cloaked or possessed. But I put to you that a spirit (and a person) in poor condition:

1. Does usually not love in all circumstances.
2. Is unable to communicate Divine Truth effectively.
3. Is not able to understand Divine Truth effectively.
4. Is usually angry, controlling, manipulative and deceiving.
5. Is not able to present Divine Truth effectively.
6. Does not live the Divine Truth his or her self.
7. Is not referred to as Jesus by spirits in higher condition.
8. Is not recognized by his or her soul mate as the person they are claiming to be.
9. Is not recognized by historical figures in the spirit world as the person they are claiming to be.
10. Is not able to consistently display love while under attack.
11. Is not able to consistently understand the higher realms of the spirit world.
12. Is not sensitive to the true emotional condition of the people surrounding them.
13. Does not usually get attacked by dark spirits, because they are dark themselves.

Frequently Asked Questions

So, if you are attempting to analyse whether I am over-cloaked or possessed by a spirit claiming to be "Jesus", you would need to consider how much love I display under extreme circumstances, and then logically examine whether that amount of love would be available from a spirit who is in a poor soul condition.

Also, the Divine Truth that I am presenting on the earth at this time, has not been effectively presented by any other person in history, nor has it been presented in its complete form as I am doing. If I am not whom I claim to be, eventually my claims will be able to be disputed or disproven, and also, the things I am talking about will also be able to be disproven. However, if I am whom I claim to be, eventually all of the claims will be able to be proven, firstly by what I achieve, and secondly, by the practice of what I am teaching effecting the lives of those who are sincerely practicing the Truth.

There is much more I can say about this subject, including presenting my own memories of my life (which is just one seamless 2000 year plus life), presenting the memories of my soul mate, presenting the memories of others of the 14 who remember me, and presenting the spirits who know me who can vouch for my identity.

I hope that has answered some of the question.

Bye for now
Love
Jesus
