Practice Understanding The Human Soul

- 6. Recognition, acceptance and practice of the known Truths about the Human Soul, including, but not limited to;
- 6.1. The human soul is the real person, separate from the person's material or physical body, and separate from the person's spirit body;
  - 6.2. The human soul is first created with, and has implanted by God within it, its own desire for the expression and reception of love from other human souls, but which desire is often suppressed quite early during the gestation period and after the birth of the child;
  - 6.3. The human soul is not the automatic possessor of Divine Love either when it is first created, or when it incarnates, or at any other time, unless the human soul first through its own Free Will, has a passionate desire and longing for Divine Love to enter itself, and has the humility to release by experience all the emotions and beliefs which prevent the Divine Love from flowing into itself;
  - 6.4. The human soul has personality, attributes and qualities, desires and passions, longings and aspirations, and, if these are harmonious with love, the human soul will experience happiness, fulfilment and security;
  - 6.5. The human soul can and usually does obtain emotional soul based injuries through the process of accepting and absorbing desires and passions that are disharmonious with love, and these injuries when ignored, not only determine the thoughts, desires, passions, longings and actions of the individual to a great extent, but also determine, through the operations of God's Universal Laws, what events, people and life situations are attracted to the person's individual life, and therefore are the causal reasons for an individual's personal pain and suffering, whether that person be living on earth or in other dimensions, and whether that person is conscious of the Truth of this fact;
  - 6.6. The human soul, no matter what its personal condition, can grow in love and therefore grow in happiness at any time, and the human soul's condition and life experience is never fixed nor predetermined;
  - 6.7. The human soul, no matter what its personal condition, can begin to receive Divine Love, while it is in any personal condition or situation, either on earth or in the spirit world; and
  - 6.8. If the human soul continues to receive Divine Love, the human soul has the ability to continue to grow infinitely by its continuous reception of Divine Love, and therefore also infinitely grow in its ability to understand God's Universal Truths, and also infinitely grow in personal happiness, bliss, and power.
