Permanence Principles
Summary	Permanence principles mean that all creation can rely on permanent law by ensuring: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Laws are unchangeable, consistent, permanent, and self-enforcing Laws are structured, verifiable and mathematical Laws are measurable, quantifiable and observable Creation has safety and predictability in the universe
Definition (What the principles are)	The law shall be unchangeable, consistent and permanent The law shall be structured, verifiable and mathematical The law's results shall be measurable, quantifiable and observable
Objectives (Why the principles are applied to law)	To promote faith & trust in the Creator, Love, Truth, the environment & life To create stability and predictability in God's Universe To promote discovery, experimentation, education & learning To prevent negotiation, manipulation, and intentional misuse of the law To allow intelligent creatures to consistently and reliably create To enable discovery of individual truths via a large variety of fields of enquiry
Application (The creation and laws affected)	Every law All matter living and non-living
Reveals (What the principles reveal about God)	God's Love & Truth is consistent and permanent, verifiable & unchangeable God feels that Love must be consistent and permanent God desires humans to discover truth through their desires God is fixed and unmovable, unable to be manipulated, lied to or fooled God feels the same for all creations of the same type God wants to be trusted
Examples (The principles' applications in law)	Gravity Gravity is consistent for the environment which allows for my security and safety in taking actions with predictability. Aerodynamics The higher law, once known and understood, can be reliably, consistently, mathematically, safely and securely engaged.

Examples (The principles' applications in law)	Fibonacci numbers in nature As an artist (proportion, people, placement of objects, etc) As a scientist (rotation of leaf placement photosynthesis efficiency etc) As a cosmologist (design of galaxies, efficient distribution of energy) As a marine biologist (efficient design and strength of living space - shells) As a botanist (design of plants etc) Cause and effect Every effect of the same kind has the same cause. Human soul Changes in my soul are measurable and repeatable.
---	---

Conclusion	Permanence principles: Ensure all laws are unchangeable, consistent, permanent, and self-enforcing and that creations can rely upon this fact. Permanence principles ensure that all creations of the same type function in the same manner so that function is certain. Humans frequently justify & minimize desires, attitudes, emotions, thoughts and actions that oppose permanence principles including: suggesting that love varies itself under different circumstances believing all law is a "process of negotiation" believing I can manipulate the law feeling if no one is watching then laws are not enforced feeling that I have a "special case or circumstance" to avoid law believing that only actions can be governed believing that superiority absolves me of certain law believing that circumstances dictate whether to obey law believing that financial considerations allow for disobedience believing freedom means being able to ignore or break law resisting growing faith based upon previous experience suggesting that there is no such thing as absolute truth, etc

Permanence Comparison
God's Concept	Human Concept
God never varies the operation of Love under any circumstance	Humans suggests that love varies itself under different circumstances
God's Laws cannot be negotiated with and are always consistently enforced	Humans believe all law is a "process of negotiation" with the law enforcer
God's Laws cannot be manipulated or appealed to	Humans believe they can manipulate the law enforcer
God's Laws are self-enforcing and always observe the attitudes, feelings & actions	Humans feel if no one is watching, then laws are not enforced
God's Laws always operate and the effect is guaranteed in all circumstance	Humans feel that they have a "special case or circumstance" to avoid law
God's Laws operate upon the attitude & feeling and action of the individual	Humans believe that only actions should be governed
God's Laws operate without partiality, and absolve no-one	Humans believe that superiority absolves them of certain law
God's Laws require obedience in all circumstances	Humans believe that circumstances dictate whether to obey law
God's Laws do not consider financial circumstances at all	Humans believe that financial considerations allow for disobedience
God's Laws cannot be ignored and state that true freedom for all requires living in harmony with the laws of Love	Humans believe freedom means being able to ignore or break law
